

WHEN WAS THE DAY

When was the day
That I looked out my window and I cried?
When was the day
That I looked out my window and I wanted to try?

To stop the world
From slipping away
To change the world
More each day, all by, all by myself

When was the day
I was living in the shadow of my fears?
When was the day
I had no choices no one else did steer?

To stop the world
From slipping away
To change the world
More each day, all by, all by myself

Where have they gone
Those noble feelings I had, did they make me strong?
All long ago, all long ago, all long ago
I can't remember where they are my hopes

To stop the world
From slipping away
To change the world
More each day, all by, all by myself
all by, all by myself
all by, all by myself

© Mario Walzberg

Composition & Lyrics: Mario Walzberg
Arrangement and instruments: Ronn van Etten, Mario Walzberg Vocals sung by: Mario Walzberg, Ronn van Etten
Produced by: Mario Walzberg
Recorded at: StudiOjo, Wateringen, Netherlands

© Mario Walzberg, 2012 (orig. 1984)
www.walzberg.com